Mall plan lacks precedent—City

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer
Granite City's downtown mall project is at an impasse so far as the City Council is concerned.

Confronted with the necessity of spending more money for engineering work before court approval of the project can be sought, Councilman Robert D. Morlen, of Monday night, gave a new look at the mall planning.

As a result, they instructed Mayor Paul Schuler to take the project back to downtown merchants and businessmen for discussions as to whether the city should follow along its present path or to "start all over again."

Most council members voiced objections to appropriating from $10,000 to $30,000 to finance preparation of detailed working plans which have been suggested by engineers, John Cutler, Chicago, and bonding authorities, before the firm will render a legal opinion as to the legality of a special assessment bond issue.

"You mean if we spent this money for more plans we still might not get the project through?" Alderman Sam Whitmer asked.

Nighbhoossian said that was the case because the Board of Improvements which developed the project under state statutes was illegally constituted when it was formed two years ago.

He said the board was organized at that time without a city charter, which is specifically required by state statute. The board at present is legally constituted, Nighbhoossian said.

There are no court precedents upon which opinions in the Granite City project can be based.

The attorney explained there are several legislators who likely would attack the project in court when if a petition is filed in circuit court asking approval of the project and the extension of special assessment funds necessary to pay off the bonds.

In addition, the attorney said, the Board of Local Improvements has no money and any bond appropriation for further engineering work would have to be advanced by the city.

Mayor Schuler said after the meeting that he will try to arrange a meeting with the city council next week to consider any further steps that might be taken. He said he will attempt to meet with representatives of all downtown retail establishments which have been interested in establishing the mall.

Because of mounting traffic concerns in the Nameoki area, Granite City officials have authorized a study of the problem.

On a suggestion by Alderman Emerald Dawes, the council referred the matter to the committee on transportation, which is chaired by Alderman Everett Morlen, and includes Aldermen William Dallas and Walter Nunn.

The action was taken after Dawes, who is chairman of the council street and alley committee, told the council:

"The traffic along Nameoki Road is getting worse day by day, and we really haven't seen any traffic until the new road during rush hours."

Bellcoff heads port board

John Bellcoff, city clerk of Madison, was elected chairman of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority at the port board's regular meeting Monday.

Bellcoff replaces Harold R. Fischer, vice-chairman of First Granite City National Bank. Fischer's appointment to the board expired and the vacated spot was filled by Avery Schermer, Madison grocer and civic leader.

Schermer was appointed by Gov. Daniel Walker and attended his first port authority meeting Monday.

Bellcoff was the former treasurer of the port board. Named as treasurer to replace him was Harold Hillmer, employee relations administrator for the Granite City School district.

The board interviewed representatives from three engineering firms in regards to awarding a contract to prepare a master plan for future port development. Other engineers are to be interviewed before a decision is made.

Appointment of a seven-man committee to oversee the plan construction of a proposed township administration building was authorized Monday night by the Granite City Council, convened at the city hall.

Decision to begin immediately the development of building plans followed approval by the board of a $300,219 budget for the township federal revenue sharing funds which includes $232,042 for the building project.

Action on the budget by Town Board members followed a special joint meeting, public hearing at 7 p.m., in which the budget was submitted. The budget was approved during the hearing without change.

In addition to the $232,042 appropriation for the township building, the budget includes $35,000 for food and hospitalization, $8,177 for social services for the aged and poor, and $25,000 for financial administration and expenses for improvement of property assessments.

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City township supervisor, told the board that he had received plans for a township building with Mayor Paul Schuler and had decided to set aside revenue sharing funds for such a project.

He said such a building should include facilities for elderly citizens such as meeting space and recreational facilities.

"When we plan the committee I think it would be possible to include some city offices as well as township offices," Hagnauer said.

The supervisor predicted that "within the next eight to ten years, township government will be phased out. Eventually the state will take over administration of the township government."

"When that time comes, I can foresee no problem in turning over the new township building to the city," he added.

Hagnauer said he believed the building should be located adjacent to the downtown area "but not directly in the downtown."

Handcuff robbery victims

An armed robber stole about $1,000 in cash from Tri-City American Legion Post 113 at 1825 State St., at 10:05 a.m. Tuesday after handcuffing the barmaid and three customers.

Marciano B. Billings, 20, Kotter City, Minn., the barmaid, said the robber, who may have had an electronic card to open the rear door, entered and displayed a blue steel pistol.

He carried a sack containing handcuffs, some clothing and what appeared to be a police radio; the sounds of government calls were heard during the robbery.

He pointed the gun at her and told her to go behind the bar.

He then took the gun to the head of Harry Ellis, 26, 25th Street, who was holding a child away. He instructed everyone in the room to lie on the floor and not look at him.

The robber then tried to handcuff the barmaid and Ellis, but the barmaid was unable to do so. He then handcuffed Ellis to the beer box.

He then went to where patron Tony Petillo, 1638 Olive St., and Butch Vaughn, 1308 Eighteenth St., were lying and handcuffed them. The employee was handcuffed next. Going behind the bar the robber took about $200 from the cash register, opened several other drawers and found about $800 in bingo receipts in one. He put the money in the sack and prepared to leave.

Just before he left, Alicia Clapper of the 2400 block of Illinois Ave., sister of the barmaid, entered the room to tell her to get him 15 minutes to get away and he would not hurt her. Police when summoned did not have keys to open the handcuffs so they cut Ellis' off at the tavern and cut the other three pairs off at the police station.

Kerner popular —Thompson not

By KEN WATSON
Springfield News Service

Springfield — The most interesting Statehouse reaction to the latest political scandal was Spire T. Agnew, who was directed not at him, but at James H.

Thompson, corruption-smashing U.S. attorney at Chicago.

The prosecutor, who has had a tough time in his battle with many of prominent Illinois politicians, including former Gov. Otto Kerner, was widely quoted as commenting that Agnew was "a real jerk" and the country was "well rid of him."

This brought Thompson nothing but verbal abuse because the Statehouse Dame, with the most terrible critics assailing him "for kicking a girl when he's down."

Some Republicans, who have been touting Thompson as a possible candidate for mayor of Chicago, were taken aback when he suddenly expressed the view that he shouldn't be considered for dogcatcher.

Capitol Democratic politicians had the same attitude.

It is this fascinating persistence of the political community to run behind those who are in trouble, down—down—down—sneering at "do-gooders" who topple them—that convinces some cynics that the political world is incapable of its own of generating any kind of new morality in public affairs.

Record Smith sales

A. O. Smith Corp., on Monday at Milwaukee, reported record sales for the first nine months of 1973.

L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said sales for the nine months were $461,722,000, compared with $369,664,000 a year ago, a 28 per cent increase.

Profits for the period were up 49 per cent to $11,741,000, or $0.28 per share, compared with $7,882,000, or $0.16 per share, last year.

Sales in the third quarter were $139,005,000, up 31 per cent from 1972 when sales were $106,154,000. Profits in the third quarter were $742,000, or 15 cents per share, compared with $230,000, or five cents per share, a year ago.

Smith said profit in the third quarter of last year were held down by strikes in the elevator industry, which affected the company's Armor Elevator subsidiaries.

He pointed out that while the third quarter is traditionally the company's lowest earnings quarter because of the annual automotive industry model change, this year was further hurt by a lack of capacity in the company's Automotive and Harvestore subsidiary.

approval of a highway safety project by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

"It is another of several efforts taken by the state to further traffic safety at the local level under the Illinois Highway Safety Program,"

Vadalabene continued.

The total cost of the Madison County project will come to about $23,000. Half of this will be reimbursed to the county upon completion of the project, from a total of $46,000 available to the state under provisions of the Federal Highway Safety Act.

"This is a small price to pay if we can make better drivers of the younger people of our area," he concluded. "It is just another of the many benefits that can accrue when state and local governments work together."

Two GC men appointed to U.S. Civil Defense Council posts

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Granite City men achieved national recognition when named to offices on the United States Civil Defense Council (USCDC) at its annual convention in St. Paul, Minn. On the floor, Ted Todoroff, 2891 Yale Drive, was unanimously elected to the post of USCD Council treasurer, succeeding Bernard H. Shelton of Bridgewater, Conn.

Proposed elimination of the treasurer's post, recommended by the USCD executive board, met with favorable reaction from council delegates, resulting in retention of the office and Todoroff's election, it was learned.

Granite City Civil Defense Director Victor H. Koenig was re-elected to a second term as Region IV vice-president, representing the states of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin and a newly added state—Ohio.

A. L. Koenig was re-appointed national membership chairman for an unprecedented fifth term.

Elected USCD president was Walter D. Hyle Jr. of Baltimore County, Md., who defeated Lea Kunkle of Joplin, Mo.

A major highlight of the convention was the keynote address by Nobel Prize winner Dr. Eugene Wigner, a world famous physicist who is a strong advocate of nuclear defense measures.

UFO week at SIUE

Erich Von Daniken, author of "Chariot of the Gods," will be at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Monday, kick off a week-long program on unidentified flying objects.

Von Daniken will be in the University Bookstore at 2:30 p.m. for a program session and will present on his theories at 8 p.m. Monday in the Meridian Ballroom. Color slides will be shown as part of his lecture.

According to Von Daniken, the sudden development of man from a primitive to a civilized being was brought about by the visitation of beings from other worlds—a concept that has attracted the attention of readers throughout the world.

A television program broadcast last January, "In Search of Ancient Astronauts," was taken from his book, "Chariot of the Gods."

Admission to the 8 p.m. lecture will be 75 cents for students and $1.50 for non-students. Tickets are on sale in the University Center Board office.

Other events of UFO week will include a science fiction film, "It Came From Outer Space," Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 11:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. Admission to this film is free.

Admission, "Between Time and Timbuktu," will be shown Wednesday, Oct. 25, at 1:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. Admission to this film is 75 cents for students and $1 for non-students. Both of the films will be shown in the Meridian Ballroom.

Other activities during the week will include discussions on UFOs as related to religion and archeology. McDonnell-Douglas Corp. will have aeronautical displays on future spacecraft.

Update zoning, subdivision laws

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission is to undertake a $12,000 study to update and modernize Marion County's zoning and subdivision control ordinances.

The Madison County Board yesterday voted to enter into an agreement with SIMAP to study existing ordinances and add provisions for modular homes, strip mining control and other areas not covered in the original documents.

The zoning ordinance was adopted by the county Feb. 20, 1963, and the subdivision control ordinance has been in effect since Oct. 17, 1956.

The study will cost about $10,000. Preparation of the study report will utilize the remainder of the $12,000, it is estimated.

The board was informed by the board of the Southwestern Illinois Health Facilities, Inc., has withdrawn its request for county assistance in financing the new defense truck, replacing a 1964 model which will be used as a trade-in.

An $11,152 contract was awarded to Lawsons Painting to paint the building in county park number two, and a $1,878 contract was awarded to F. H. Petkett for topcoating and repair work at the Madison County Museum.

A resolution was approved increasing the pay of county election judges from $2 per election to $30 per election and upping the pay for polling places from $20 to $25.

CARS HITS CHILD

The driver of a car, Seals, 612 W. Thirty St., Madison, struck a child in the 300 block of Madison Avenue at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday. The child ran from the scene without identifying himself. Three officers, with the boy, gave police a tentative identification. He apparently was not seriously injured, witnesses said.

State pollution bonds by Olin

The Illinois Industrial Pollution Control Financing Authority has authorized the Olin Corp. to issue $100 million in bonds for pollution control equipment, the first such application approved by the authority.

The bonds will provide money for installation of a waste treatment plant at Olin's East Alton facility.

The authority will retain title to the equipment until the bonds are paid off, after which it will sell the equipment to the firm outright, for a "nominal sum," according to Susan Beekow, assistant to the authority's executive director, Joshua Margolis.

So far, less than 10 applications have been received by the authority.

The three members of the authority, appointed last spring by Gov. Daniel Walker, are Dr. Norman Gelfan, a physics professor at the University of Chicago, chairman; Carol Ford, environmental engineer; and David A. Lawyer, a lawyer. All are from the Chicago area. The posts pay no salary.

The authority has been given power to authorize sale of $250 million in bonds to buy pollution control equipment, with $75 million of that total specifically earmarked to aid small business.

There are no limits on the amounts which firms may ask to issue in bonds for equipment purchases, but all firms must be in compliance with "come to the attention" of the Environmental Protection Agency, probably for polluting.

Applications and additional information can be obtained from Joshua Margolis, executive director of the Illinois Industrial Pollution Control Financing Authority, at 160 N. La Salle St., Room 2100, Chicago 60601.

RANSACK BASEMENT
The basement door at the home of Sharol Campbell, 2417 Marion St., was left open and a room in the basement was ransacked, it was reported at 7:50 p.m. Monday. It is unknown what was stolen.

24 Goldschmidt goals but South soccer wins based on teamwork

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer

GCHS South soccer coach
Gene Baker, whose Warriors are ranked near the top in the state, believes his team can be competitive with anyone and has his sights set on the year's state championship.

"It has been a real good season," he said this week. "It has gone by so fast because of our tight schedule. And that's good, because the team does have a chance to get stale on the game."

"We are kind of peaking now," notes Baker. "We're still in the race, still forward and getting a little bit of depth. We're making changes in the systems, and inserting something a little extra into each game."

"Gehling and Goldschmidt have commented that because of injuries the team has had to depend heavily on Don Goldschmidt, who leads the scoring with 24 goals, and 16 assists, and Martinez, with 17 goals, and Keith Gehling, who shares mid-field duties with Dave Sheridan."

"Goldschmidt," says Baker,
"is technically one of the best all-around soccer players in the area. He's a good shooter and is skilled in the ball control. One of the four forward players, Goldschmidt began his soccer career in the local YMCA program, as did Martinez.

Gehling first saw varsity action last fall with East Louis before transferring with his brother, Ronnie, to South
last year.

Gehling remarked, "We make the goals, but it's the mid-field men who make everything click, pushing the ball up the middle to us."

"If Gehling and Goldschmidt aren't clicking right," said Baker, "we're not going to be making the good goals."

"We're making the goals, but it's the mid-field men who make everything click, pushing the
ball up the middle to us."

"We are kind of peaking now,"
notes Baker. "We're still in the race, still forward and getting a little bit of depth. We're making changes
in the systems, and inserting something a little extra into
each game."

"The thing we are looking at
now is how we do against teams
that score a lot."

"For the first time," Baker
noted, "we are getting healthy overall, which would help us in our overall play."

District football title to DeMolays

The James Stuart Chapter flag football team, which consists of 16 Quad-City area residents, captured the DeMolay Bi-District title this weekend, defeating Quincy 20-14 in a game at Godfrey's North High Field.

The local chapter participated later the same afternoon in the DeMolay Association of Southern Illinois flag football, but failed to advance further when defeated 14-0 by the Carbondale Chapter.

Carbondale will meet the winners of Northern Illinois later this month.

Members of the local squad are David Epping, David Fralay, Anthony Ettimoff,
Charles Powell, David Price,
David Rice, Tony Stajduhar,
Bill Todd, Wally Todd,
Anthony Swanson, Mike
Weathers, Kevin Winter, Michael Worthen and John and Joseph Young.

James Naeve is the local chapter's flag football advisor.

He said the team is "highlighted by the 1973
season—the hope of another
state championship."

"We'll switch the boys around as we see just to confuse the opposition," Baker said. "It usually works out because we usually adjust to one another very well."

All three expressed the same thoughts about the 1973

season—the hope of another
state championship.

"The thing we are looking at
now is how we do against teams
that score a lot."

"For the first time," Baker
noted, "we are getting healthy overall, which would help us in
our overall play."

The razing permit for the hamburger stand was granted to Thomas Gardner, Riverview Gardens, Mo. The city demolished the structure Wednesday. The permit to raze the duplex was granted to Paul Seehold, contractor.

Change proposed in city special use permit law

Proposed changes to Granite City's special use permit ordinance to allow more permits to be granted are to be discussed by city officials and planners in near future. A mock ordinance provides provisions under which the permits can be granted is to be presented to the Granite City Plan Commission Nov. 1.

At its meeting last week, the commission voted to have its chairman, Dave Morgan, meet with Mayor Paul Schuler and City Attorney George Filicoff and representatives of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC) when possible to widen the ordinance's provisions.

Under the present guidelines, special use permits may be issued only to structures on four-lane highways. Persons wishing to place a beauty shop or other small business in a business area, including a four-lane highway or street, must obtain commercial zoning to do so.

The plan commission, hearing complaints from many residents, has been reluctant to grant commercial zoning to homes on two lane streets.

Also at the meeting, the commission voted to recommend against petitions by Clarence Moore, 3145 Elm Ave., and Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC) when possible to widen the ordinance's provisions.

for property at 2304 E. 25th St., for a laundry service in her home. Both properties presently are in single family dwelling districts.

The Granite City Council Monday night voted to grant a special permit to Mrs. Moore.

The City Council also upheld the recommendations of the Board of Appeals which were issued last week.

The Board of Appeals recommended approval of seven appeals. They were: Jim Nelson requesting a waiver to construct a garage three feet from the side property line at 2345 Illinois Ave.; Charles Moore to construct a carport one foot from the side property line at 3008 Dale Ave., and Neil Detwiler to construct a carport seven feet from the side property line at 2444 Wilson Ave.

YOUTH FOCUS

Many doors open to creative, high-achieving student leaders

Colleges offer many opportunities through their financial aid offices.

The student who has need, but who can present convincing reasons why he is interested in a particular college, often finds help if his record indicates he is a good risk.

Ranking high in academic achievement and high on pre-college testing programs is often insufficient for consideration. The financial aid part of the student can make the difference between opportunity and lack of opportunity.

The student who has been active in school affairs—athletic, student government, clubs—shows leadership.

The student who is active in Junior Achievement or who has a good record of employment, showmanship and citizenship.

The creative student is sought by many schools; his academic record may be average—and even below.

But if he has a unique talent in art, mathematics, sciences, mathematics, business or some other area of interest—and has shown that he wants to use that talent, considerable help may be available for him.

The student who ranks high in a class shows leadership and is creative often finds schools writing him inviting him to enroll.

While financial need may be a factor in the awarding of many scholarships, many others are based solely on other leadership, talent or achievement.

The federal service academies and the Reserve Officers' Training Corps programs in college require the student who has demonstrated leadership although his academic record may be below that of top students in his class.

Each year, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks conduct a national scholarship based on leadership. Students are honored at the local, state and national levels.

The student who has need, but who can present convincing reasons why he is interested in a particular college, often finds help if his record indicates he is a good risk.

Companies such as A. O. Smith Corp., and Ford Motor Co., as well as numerous trade union groups, offer scholarships to children of employees.

Various organizations in the local, state and national levels offer scholarships; many of them are limited to children of veterans or deceased veterans.

The Granite City Scholarship Foundation, composed of numerous civic organizations, businesses and industries of this area, offer substantial grants to Granite City high schools in the spring of each year.

According to an enrollment counselor in the military programs at the University of Illinois, there are 100 scholarships that go beginning.

He cited the Illinois Military Scholarship, funded by the state for students going into the Illinois National Guard.

These scholarships cover tuition fees and are offered at four state universities and have ROTC. Two are for the University of Illinois, one for Northern Illinois and one for Western. Ten scholarships may be in force, but some are not used.

Similar scholarships are available for students in junior colleges who are transferring to baccalaureate programs at the above schools beginning in September, the following scholarships have been announced.

University of Chicago—the Alonzo Stagg Scholarship in athletics, as well as other scholarships in other areas.

They must also have scored above $50 on both the verbal and mathematics portions of the SAT.

Blackburn College at Carlinville requires every student to work 15 hours a week at an on-campus job; this makes it possible for the college to have a very low fee for room and board.

GC teams seeded 1st in soccer districts

GCHS South, defending state soccer champion with a record of 13-1, is the top seeded team in its district.

St. Fedora, Granite City School District athletic director, has announced pairings for the Illinois High School Association district meet to be held at South Field beginning Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Game 1 will be a fourth-seeded St. Paul of Highland meeting Gibault at Waterloo, fifth seeded.

Game 2 Wednesday, Oct. 24, has South meeting the winner of the Waterloo-Highland game. Game 3 Thursday, Oct. 25, will match second-seeded Collinsville and the district's third-seeded team, Assumption of East St. Louis.

Starting time for the three games is 3:45 p.m.

The district championship game between the winners of games 2 and 3 is scheduled to start at 11 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 27.

An official schedule had not been received in mid-week from Jacksonville regarding North's district meet, which also begins Oct. 23. But the Steelers have been named the top seeded team with Jacksonville second and Peoria High third, Fedora

Frank Barnes and Doug Hoffman scored on forward runs. Collinsville's points came late in the fourth quarter on a 22-yard field goal.

Grid jayvees smash Kahoks

Sophomore Bryan Bunyan, second place picked for the GCHS South varsity, was named the junior varsity squad to a 28-3 victory Tuesday at Collinsville.

Bunyan, quarterback, defensive safety and place kicker, scored two of South's 4 TDs and kicked all four extra points.

Cougars again tops in nation

Polling all but one first place vote, the 7-4-3 Southern Illinois University Edwardsville team maintained its number one spot in the latest rankings issued Tuesday by the coaches' committee of the Inter-collegiate Soccer Football Association of America.

Still in second place is St. Louis University, which trailed the Cougar kickers in total votes, 386-431. Coming up strong was the University of Missouri-St. Louis Rivermen, who vaulted from ninth place last week to seventh.

The Cougars and Rivermen met Tuesday afternoon in a battle of the rankings, ending in a scoreless tie. The two squads will tangle Friday night, Nov. 9, at St. Louis Busch Stadium where they drew 14,000, the largest crowd ever to see a college soccer game, last season.

The University of San Francisco Dons (5-0-1), took over third place in the rankings to replace the University of Pennsylvania, which dropped to eighth.

Quincy College, which had been out of the rankings the past two weeks, was picked in the 11th spot after trouncing the University of Wisconsin 3-0 and holding SUE to a 2-0 score last week.

Teams to travel

Both the Peewees and Midgets travel to Granite City this weekend. The Peewees football club host at home this weekend. Alton handed the Peewees their sixth consecutive downing them 18-0, and in the Midget division Alton topped Edwardsville 14-0.

The Peewees travel to Belleville Saturday for a 3:30 p.m. game with the Knights and the Midgets will be at Edwardsville for a 2 p.m. game Sunday.

North kickers scalp Kahoks

The soccer Steelers of GCHS North continued their winning ways Monday, bouncing back in the third quarter to beat the Kahoks 1-0, and defeating the Kahoks 3-1 on Saturday.

Dan Gehling opened his season record with a free penalty shot in the second quarter and an unassisted straight power shot in the third period.

With Gehling scored first for the Warriors with a 30-yard unassisted foul shot from the outside, Mike Martinez, the team's second highest scorer, broke away from his guard to score unassisted in the same period.

Martinez also assisted Mike Fry in scoring. Fry, a likely prospect to replace the injured Chris Bennington, had a field day, scoring once in the third quarter and twice in the final period.

Rich Becherer, assisted by Rich Fernandez, gave South its eighth goal.

Kahok But Kundilla kicked one past Goalie Larry Petri to tie the game.

Dan Sudej scored five minutes later and Mike Demarse headed the ball into the enemy net with six minutes left in the game.

Coach G. Gehling, who mentored, "It was a tough game for us. Petri has to be commended for saving four shots which could've turned the game around."

Terry leads two more South wins

South's Dwayne Terry led the Warriors to their fourth dual meet victory of the season Tuesday, the team downing East St. Louis High 21-24 at Cahokia Mounds State Park.

Terry covered 2.85 miles in 15:41, finishing first to break the former course record of 15:15 set earlier this year by Ray Russell of the opposing team.

South runners Jim Hall, 4th, 15:47, Sam Nesbit, 7th, 16:16, and Greg Ahlers, 9th, 16:09, and Frank Holmes, 10th, 16:41, aided in the victory.

Terry, a junior, helped spark on the team Monday at Wilson Park, South defeating O'Fallon and also Assumption of East St. Louis, with a score of 29 points.

Terry finished a 2.85-mile distance in 15:07. Hall was second in 15:10.

O'Fallon was second in the meet with 44 points and Assumption totaled 58 points for third.

Garth Widell led the junior varsity to a 22-38 victory in a 1.83-mile meet with a time of 11:04.

Victor Young, 11:33, and Steve Tracy, 11:53, finished third and fifth.

Discussing Terry, Coach Dick Harmon says, "I tell him to get out in front fast and hold on to the end."

Running in the shadow of Howie Bryant last year, Terry finished second and third consistently but failed to post a cross-country victory until the season opener at O'Fallon in September.

Since then he has broken individual, school and course records at a rate of two a month.

"Terry has more initial speed than Howie," Harmon told the Press-Record, "and also has the ability to pour it on at the finish where it really counts."

The youth moved from St. Louis to Granite City with his family, while a third-grade student and first entered cross-country competition as a freshman at Grigsby Junior High, where he broke the school's 10-mile track record.

"Howie Bryant and I became good friends and he helped me to develop as a runner, working with me during summer vacation as well as at school," Terry relates.

What does he expect at tomorrow's Southeast Conference meet? It is to be held at Alton High School.

Since then he has broken individual, school and course records at a rate of two a month.

"Terry has more initial speed than Howie," Harmon told the Press-Record, "and also has the ability to pour it on at the finish where it really counts."

The youth moved from St. Louis to Granite City with his family, while a third-grade student and first entered cross-country competition as a freshman at Grigsby Junior High, where he broke the school's 10-mile track record.

"Howie Bryant and I became good friends and he helped me to develop as a runner, working with me during summer vacation as well as at school," Terry relates.

What does he expect at tomorrow's Southeast Conference meet? It is to be held at Alton High School.

Terry, covered 2.85 miles in 15:41, finishing first to break the former course record of 15:15 set earlier this year by Ray Russell of the opposing team.

South runners Jim Hall, 4th, 15:47, Sam Nesbit, 7th, 16:16, and Greg Ahlers, 9th, 16:09, and Frank Holmes, 10th, 16:41, aided in the victory.

Terry, a junior, helped spark on the team Monday at Wilson Park, South defeating O'Fallon and also Assumption of East St. Louis, with a score of 29 points.

Terry finished a 2.85-mile distance in 15:07. Hall was second in 15:10.

O'Fallon was second in the meet with 44 points and Assumption totaled 58 points for third.

Garth Widell led the junior varsity to a 22-38 victory in a 1.83-mile meet with a time of 11:04.

Victor Young, 11:33, and Steve Tracy, 11:53, finished third and fifth.

Discussing Terry, Coach Dick Harmon says, "I tell him to get out in front fast and hold on to the end."

Running in the shadow of Howie Bryant last year, Terry finished second and third consistently but failed to post a cross-country victory until the season opener at O'Fallon in September.

Webster parents object to milk price increase

Written objection to the cut in milk subsidies to schools, resulting in an increase in price, reached a climax when 9 cents for a half pint of milk, was authorized Monday evening by members of the Webster School Parent-Teacher Association.

Meeting in regular session at Webster's PTA, Webster parents compiled the letter and voted to send copies to U. S. Senator Charles Percy (R-Illinois), U. S. Representative Melvin Price, (D-East St. Louis), and President Richard Nixon.

Don Seitzer, PTA president, conducted the business session and plans were reviewed for a "Spook Carnival" scheduled from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday at the school.

A festive evening is arranged, Seitzer said, with various booths erected in classrooms, dancing in the gymnasium under the supervision of Mrs. Paul DePew and a fish fry. Game booths will include bean bag toss, grab bag, bowling, fish pond and novelty events, parents were advised.

The PTA began a protest at the door starting at 6 o'clock tomorrow night, Seitzer said.

Directing the carnival will be Principal Clyde Lee, Guy Tom Watkins, Seitzer and Mrs. Paul DePew, Mae Lee, Ruth Dulosic, Linda McKinney, Marilyn Frith, Jo Ross, Agnes Barta and Jackie Walker.

Reporters from the Daily Pack 20, led by Mrs. Barbara Schwerdtman, conducted the flag ceremony and Mrs. Ruby Williams read the PTA Prayer to open the business meeting.

Principal Lee awarded a pin to Mrs. Jeanne Merkellbach's fourth grade class for having the largest percentage of parents at the session.

"Early Childhood Education" was the title of a program presented by Mrs. Brenda Fife.

a Webster teacher, who explained teaching methods now employed during a child's early years.

Kindergarten room mothers served refreshments, decorating the serving tables in a seasonal motif.

Webster School will hold its annual fall house in conjunction with the Nov. 19 PTA meeting, Seitzer announced. Faculty members will be in charge of arranging the open house program, he said.

Proceeds from the four-day project will be donated to the C. A. Anderson Hospital and used to be used for construction of a new hospital in the Troy-Collinsville area.

New Madison city ordinance has goal of a neater, healthier community

If reasonably administered, a new Madison law may be a boon to all who value neat, attractive, healthful living conditions.

It empowers the city to remove debris from private property and the owner for the cost of the removal. Failure to pay will lead to placing a lien on the property.

Targets are lumber, junk, trash, discarded or unused objects or equipment, autos, furniture, appliances and containers.

Urban life too frequently has become associated with visions of hazardous, ugly accumulations of unwanted or unneeded items which not only detract from the appearance of the lot where they are located but also that of neighboring land or buildings. The new approach to municipal beauty by Madison may prove to be highly useful and effective.

Area office could speed response by sheriff's deputies, state police

Although both the Madison County Sheriff's Department and Illinois State Police District 11 have made concerted efforts in the past several years to upgrade service throughout their jurisdictions, service to the Quad-City area still leaves room for improvement.

Reports from unincorporated area residents of waiting several hours for a sheriff's car to answer a complaint may bring legitimate responses from the law enforcement agency as to a shortage of patrol cars in the area. But it would be more assuring to them if they knew that the next time they are in need, the same circumstances would not prevail.

A Quad-City "Stopping-off" point for state and county officers might be worthy of consideration. Even a centrally located room with chairs, table, a telephone and a hot pot of coffee could be of great value to those seeking a way to communicate directly with authorities; an officer could confer with several complainants faster than driving to several locations.

Equipped with appropriate police radios, the room could serve as a place for deputies and troopers to discuss means of coordinating their law enforcement efforts while still remaining in contact with their offices and being ready to act in an emergency situation.

Use of a dispatcher to serve the needs of this area also might be considered. This would end the necessity of many Madison County families having to make toll telephone calls to contact the sheriff's department.

Such toll calls add to the feeling that police help is very far away from the areas of Madison County outside municipal boundaries.

Student paper discussing Agnew, Watergate cites importance of voting

Guest comment by the Aleste, student newspaper of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. This newspaper (Aleste), not such a long time ago, endorsed George McGovern for President.

The Nixon landslide is now history, surely to be regarded as a victory for a conservative, business-as-usual political entity. It now appears that this political victory produced an administration more corrupt and dishonest than any other in American history.

Spiro Agnew, once remembered as a foxhole, to his words, is exposed as a dishonest, exceedingly stupid politician.

The President himself is regarded as a tainted man. While he may not have been actively involved in Watergate, he is surely not the honest, forthright politician he has pretended to be.

While it now seems like a good time for all "effete snobs" to sit back, point their fingers and make accusations in a manner similar to the former Vice-President, such actions are not needed. Our political system has been hit too hard for actions such as these. It is truly a sad time for all Americans.

We urge Democratic members of Congress to realize the delicateness of our present political situation and refrain from the natural tendency to capitalize on such a political hiatus. This is no time for electo-nomic members of Congress to be more corrupt and dishonest than any other in American history.

Agnew, once remembered as a foxhole, to his words, is exposed as a dishonest, exceedingly stupid politician.

We urge fellow Americans to again realize the responsibility granted each one in the right of suffrage. Such tragedy as our nation now faces is not unavoidable, for as the adage goes, we put him there. Come home, America.

Controls doomed to fail

After a siege of severe inflation, the public takes heart when government announces

The trouble is, however, price freezes do not really work. They have not proved to be discriminatory, either in this country or abroad.

Less popular and at least as wage freezes. It would seem that close control over wages might be maintained quite handily for modest periods.

History documents that it does not work out that way.

This should not be surprising in democracies, but even autocratic regimes have failed in their efforts to control inflation by means of either wage or price controls, or both.

Twelve European countries in recent years have tried wage controls: Britain, Austria, Denmark, France, Finland, Germany, Sweden, The Netherlands, Ireland, Iceland and Yugoslavia. Three tried complete wage freezes.

England's Tribune, an English-language newspaper, reports their lack of success.

In Britain, wage guidelines permitted a 2.5 per cent increase in 1970 and 4.5 per cent in 1971, but collective bargaining alone produced an increase of approximately 10 per cent.

Austria was allowed to be highly experienced in wage negotiations. In 1971, one counter-planned to wages to increase no more than 8 per cent. They actually rose 14 per cent.

The report from Germany notes that pay in Poland was supposed to increase by 5.5 per cent a year in 1968, 1969 and 1970. Statistics show that industrial wages alone climbed an average of 10.5 per cent in those years.

Indeed, the wage guidelines have been exceeded by almost 40 per cent since going into effect.

Norwegians, in 1971, collected wage drift about 50 per cent above the officially decreed wage settlements, although this was officially forbidden.

In France, from 1968 through 1971, wage guidelines were surpassed by approximately 50 per cent.

The German Tribune states that "even under the authoritarian Spanish government, the only wage freeze that came into effect was declared in 1968. In the next two years, the officially decreed level of wage rises was almost doubled."

In the most geographically diverse country in Europe, from land to Spain, and under the most diverse economic conditions, from Britain to Yugoslavia, attempts to control wages did not work.

The Tribune says that, basically, there were six factors overriding in the breakdown of wage watchdog systems:

1. Failure to back up the wage freeze with a sufficiently loyalty-oriented economic policy.

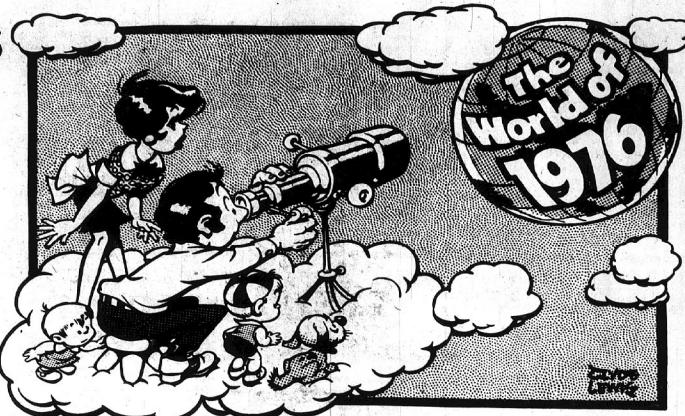

2. An institutionalized connection between wages and the cost of living index in seven countries acted as a built-in inflator.

3. The government and employers often felt incentive increases beyond the law were necessary for peace.

4. Companies, above-average profits as a result of increased productivity or efficiency were inclined to purchase worker loyalty with special bonuses.

5. In labor negotiations, some firms not directly affected corrected upward through special arrangements.

6. Wage guidelines are set, men and women in the lower wage brackets are usually given above-average emoluments. Higher income earners then pressed for similar gains to retain the differential.

Somehow the idea pleased him.

The bus had just pulled to a stop when Jon drove up. Jon hooked his bike to the bike trailer in the back, got aboard and paid the dollar fee.

"It was supposed to be installed today, wasn't it?"

"Of course."

"After all, he gets a midyear one that's worth more."

"That's what worries me," said Jon. "I just don't know how much he's going to justify to the price control board."

"He must have something figured out."

"I suppose."

Jon drove over to the front door and walked outside.

"No paper again today."

"I know. The paper strike must still be going on."

"The government should do something about that."

"They will eventually, I suppose. But it's such a complex issue."

"I guess."

Jon started putting on his coat.

"Thank you," said Jon.

Jon was about to look at the stock market when he was stopped by a woman who had just come in for the last year.

"Stocks Hold Steady At 800." Nobody Jon knew was in the stock market anymore, other than Noddy Smithers, whose market wasn't government controlled now, the averages would probably be much worse.

building.

"What's that?" asked Jim.

"That's the new noise monitor, Mrs. Wells," said Jim.

"Oh, that's right," said Jon.

"It was supposed to be installed today, wasn't it?"

"No," said Jim, holding the gleaming instrument.

"It's not working," said Jim.

"Please don't do that," said Jim.

"Jim, what would the union say?"

"Lord, no," said Jon. "What would the union say?"

Jon stood up what he had written. "Top Secret," and locked it in his desk safe.

After he had pedaled home, Jon quickly made up his wife — who was a little miffed at the morning argument. Then they went over to the Sotherby's.

The party was already swinging by the time they got there. Sotherby was holding the center of attention as usual.

"Yes," said Sotherby. "I've removed all the fluorescent lights at my firm. The new government regulations are so strict, and the fluorescent lights are so expensive that I've decided to rely on artificially strengthened sunlight."

"But won't that be expensive?"

"Yes," said Sotherby. "But when you figure out the cost of power these days, even with the new nuclear plant, then it's probably unnecessary, anyway."

"The conversation always got back to Sotherby's," Jon thought bitterly. Soon he'd be getting back to the government he made in Soybeans Unlimited again. Yes, there went.

"Best decision I've ever made," said Sotherby. "and that's saying something. Soybeans have risen 20 times since 1974, and they still are."

Sudden Sotherby noticed Jon watching him.

"Oh, is that you, Jon?" said Jon. "Take yourself at home. Help yourself to the drug of your choice," he added, pointing at the bar where various concoctions, including liquor, were on display.

Jon did, but he didn't help much. And Mary went home early.

"What?" said Mary. "What's wrong?"

"We have fish tonight. Sea bass,"

"What?" said Jon. "Do you want to drive me into the poorhouse? You know fish is up to $5 an ounce."

His wife said, "It's just trying to make you happy."

"I'm sorry," said Jon. "It's just that Sotherby's was getting us."

After dinner (Jon winced at every bite) they decided to get to bed early. As soon as they got under the covers, however, the air conditioner went off.

"Brownout," said Jon. "Sleep one of those days I guess."

He rolled over and went to sleep. A typical day in July, 1976.

BPW legislative dinner plans

Reservations are due Saturday for the annual "Legislative Dinner" of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club set Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at Club's Restaurant.

The public is invited to attend and reservations may be made by calling 876-3885, Mrs. Edna Kuehne, chairman, said today.

Highlighting the event will be an address by Harry Page, former administrative assistant to Illinois Attorney General William C. Scott, and recognition of graduates from the club-sponsored Political Action course.

The dinner is one of several activities planned in observance of National Business and Professional Women's Week which commences Sunday.

A native of Lemont, Ill., Page was born in Granite City, Ill., High School and received his bachelor of science degree from Western Illinois

University in 1962 and a master of science degree in public school administration from the same university in 1964.

Page was awarded a doctor of laws degree for "outstanding activities planned in observance of National Business and Professional Women's Week which commences Sunday.

The search for Young Career Woman candidates has been launched by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club to coincide with "National Business Women's Week" which starts Sunday.

Mrs. Valerie Stevens, program chairman for the local club, said the program is designed to help young women while introducing them to the ideals and standards of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

A candidate will be selected at the local level and sponsored in district competition, with the district winner's qualifications then judged at the business women's state convention, Mrs. Stevens explained.

State winners received an expense paid trip to the national BPW convention scheduled in June at Juan, Puerto Rico. A total of 44 state Young Career Women took part in last year's national program at Miami Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Stevens said to be eligible to be considered for the program are women

between the ages of 21 and 28 years, on or less, in business or the professions with a least one year of full-time work experience in her career area;

outstanding in scholastic accomplishment, service and church work, living, working, training or continuing her education in the area served by the state federation she may represent.

the program are invited to write or call Mrs. Stevens, 3805

Franklin Ave., 876-1232 or

Miss Linda Weir, 3829

Walton Ave., 876-1230.

Precise information concerning resumes and other qualifications may be obtained by contacting either club officer.

GC will host school boards of 4 counties

Area school board members and administrators will gather at the Granite City High School South cafeteria, 3101 Madison Ave., Wednesday, Oct. 24, to take part in a semi-annual dinner meeting of the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

The guests will inspect school facilities beginning at 5 p.m.

The 6 p.m. meeting consists of a dinner, a keynote address and site inspection panel presentations. The keynote speaker is Gene L. Hoffman, state representative of the 40th District.

The six panel topics are: teacher evaluation, setting board priorities, job components of the principalship, court decisions, community involvement, and the role of the school attorney. A question-and-answer session will be held immediately following the dinner.

IASB is a voluntary service organization of 1,000 Illinois school boards, with headquarters in Springfield.

The Southwestern Division includes the counties of Madison, Monroe, Randolph and St. Clair.

George E. Moore, Sr., a member of the host Granite City Board of Education, is chairman of the Southwestern Division.

Harold E. Bruggs, assistant superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region, will be a panel member on "teacher evaluation for professional growth."

GC MAN CHARGED

Roger Clements, 27, of 2006 West 20th Street, was charged with aggravated assault after he was arrested in the 100 block of West 20th Street at 2:50 p.m. Monday. A man allegedly threw an ashtray which struck the head of Mrs. Pearl Clements, also of 2006 Miesouri Avenue, in her home. She signed a complaint against her former husband.

Fund disclosure key to honest government—Walker

Gov. Dan Walker submitted a comprehensive "Open Campaign and Honest Government Act" and companion bills Monday to the ethics special session of the Illinois General Assembly.

The proposal would require complete disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures and complete disclosure of the economic interests of individual state officials and key state employees. It would make the state Board of Ethics a "watchdog for honesty" throughout state government.

In his message to the legislature, Gov. Walker said: "The late Senator Everett Dirksen once observed that 'there is nothing more tragic as an idea whose time has come.' And the idea of honesty-in-government legislation is long overdue."

There is no escape from the grim facts of recent years. The public has suffered; both political parties have suffered. — "Never before, the public wants and deserves action."

The best protection, I have always believed, is full public disclosure of all contributions, liabilities, net worth by officeholders and candidates for state office and full disclosure of all contributions by candidates.

My proposal requires full economic and campaign disclosure by all state officeholders and candidates. It ends secret land trusts.

It creates a comprehensive state Board of Ethics with substantial power to supervise and administer the disclosure requirements.

I cannot urge full disclosure legislation too strongly. Our failure to pass the proposal would inevitably be viewed as a desire to keep the doors of politics closed; a desire to hide fact and truth from the public.

Major provisions of the ethics proposal are:

Campaign Finance.

Campaign committees for state and county, state party, central committee and other political committees must make financial disclosure three times before and once after each election, including primaries, twice during non-election years.

The reports must contain the total amount of contributions and expenditures, the names and amounts contributed by anyone who gave $50 or more; assets and liabilities of the committee; the total spent for radio and television; and the nature and amount of each expenditure of $50 or more. Each contributor of $50 or more must be given a receipt.

Contributions of $50 or more in cash or anonymously given to a political committee will be up to one year in person and a fine up to $1,000. The penalty for trying to evade the disclosure requirement by giving a series of contributions of less than $50 is imprisonment for up to three years and a fine up to $10,000. The penalty applies to the donor and recipient.

Political parties making or receiving a political contribution in the name of another person is prohibited.

Political committees are prohibited from complaisance with the Act by attempting to raise money or performing political work on their behalf.

Committees must designate a treasurer and register with a political committee within 10 days of formation. No political committee can operate under the name of a candidate without the candidate's permission.

Committees must make a contribution in connection with a promise of private benefit from legislation or state regulators' decisions, or contributors must sign a receipt disclaiming any promise or expectation of a private benefit.

The prohibition under Gov. Walker's proposal applies against state employees under the governor soliciting political contributions from other employees or from persons dealing with an official capacity is expanded to cover all state employees.

Contributions by State Contractors

Persons and firms doing business with the state or regulated by the state must file financial disclosure reports twice yearly detailing political contributions by the entity or its key persons to any candidate for state office.

The disclosure must include contributions for the previous two years as required by Gov. Walker's Executive Order No. 5.

Disclosure of Personal Finances.

All elected state officers, including legislators, appointed or elected office, state employees earning $20,000 or more and employees whose decisions have significant economic impact on private persons or businesses must file a complete economic interest report on a year and at other specified times.

A candidate for state office must file a personal economic interest report at the time of filing a petition for nomination to office and once each year while a candidate.

Statements filed with the Board of Ethics must include all interests owned or controlled by the person filing. It must contain four key elements: net worth (including identification and amounts of all assets and liabilities);

The last calendar year's income (including pertinent portions of federal or state income tax returns, and the amount of and amount received from each source);

Non-family gifts received in the last calendar year (if the gift is either $50 or more in value or comes from a source doing business with the state or state-regulated);

And a list of close economic associations such as a law firm or family business, indicating if the entity derives substantial income from state-related business.

State Board of Ethics

The three-member state Board of Ethics created by Gov. Walker's Executive Order No. 4 is given power to administer the campaign disclosure requirements, personal financial disclosure requirements and the registration and spending reports filed by lobbyists.

The board also has broad powers to issue rules to administer the new act, conduct investigations and hearings into violations, issue subpoenas and refer cases to appropriate law enforcement authorities or state agencies for prosecution or dismissal.

The board is to study and propose modifications of existing laws in conflict of interest and local government ethics.

Statements filed with the Board of Ethics are open to public inspection except personal economic interest statements filed by public members of state boards and commissions. The Board of Ethics is to protect the confidence of reports in its files from inspection by credit agencies or others with a commercial interest.

The state Board of Ethics would be appropriated $150,000 to administer its expanded responsibilities under the new act for the rest of fiscal 1974, under a separate bill to be introduced.

The General Assembly defeated a $50,000 funding bill for the board last spring.

A third bill provides that the Board of Ethics take over from the Secretary of State the registration of lobbyists and their lobbying expenses.

The bill also removes a loophole from the Lobbyist Registration Act by requiring disclosure of expenditures for political advertising events.

A fourth bill makes changes in the Governmental Ethics Act to make it conform to the proposed Open Campaign and Honest Government Contributions for which no required receipt is held would be considered personal income of the candidate, subject to the state income tax.

SIUE Offers Training Program In Waste Water Plant Operations

To help meet rising water quality standards set by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville offers an extensive training program in waste water plant operational procedures.

Fourteen persons are enrolled this quarter in the on-the-job program for employees in water treatment plants or in waste water treatment for area municipalities and industries.

According to Clifford Fore, the upgrading program covers all phases of waste water treatment and involves 344 hours of classroom and laboratory work and related on-the-job training.

In its fourth year, the program is contracted with the federal EPA with funds provided by the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments. This year's contract calls for training 14 persons in the 14-week sessions.

Three phases of the program are offered at SIUE. The current phase, which will run until Dec. 7, provides instruction in upgrading of waste water treatment. The second phase, which will run from Dec. 10 to March 15, 1974, covers upgrading water treatment.

The third—advanced waste water treatment—begins March 18 and will run through June 30.

A ball of grease caught on the bar screen at the waste treatment plant influence at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is removed by Clifford Fore (left), plant supervisor. Observing are two students in the SIUE on-the-job waste water treatment plant operators program, David Deuser (center), Highland, and Ron Marti, St. Jacob.

Alan P. Johnson of Collinsville observes the pilot microstrainer used for experimental solids removal at the waste water treatment plant at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Johnson is a student in the on-the-job waste water treatment plant operators program at SIUE. Fore is the instructor.

Fee for some credentials

Because of budgetary restrictions in the Placement Service at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is instituting a fee for mailing placement credentials. W. Max Hansel, acting director, said that a candidate establishes a set of placement papers the candidate is entitled to request these papers to be forwarded to any prospective employer of his choice.

The first five requests will be mailed free of charge. After the first five requests have been filled, the candidate will be charged $1 for each additional request.

"There is no limit on the number of times a candidate's file can be sent out—only on the number of free sets to be mailed," Hansel said.

All students in business, liberal arts and education who expect to receive degrees in June 1974 should register now in the Placement Office, he said.

"We have three people in our office and we like to talk with every candidate when he comes in," Hansel said.

The Placement Office also has a computer printout service which gives the candidate easy access to placement information when he stops in the office.

Despite the delay, 600 to 800

Scouts and their leaders are expected to take part in the event.

"This year is showing signs of being a good placement year for our candidates," Hansel noted.

Safety tips for Halloween

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Home Economic Advisor
For Madison County

Treating your child's costume with fire retardant finish and letting him design his own are only two ways you can keep trick or treating fun for your youngsters.

When planning costumes and decorations for your children and their parents, use these fire safety tips in mind:

—Select ready-made costumes, masks, wigs and beads that carry a flameproof label.

—Avoid materials and excessive yardage in costumes. A touch of flame can easily start them burning.

—Use flameproof your homemade costumes. Here's how: Mix seven ounces of regular laundry borax and three ounces of boric acid with two quarts of water.

Remember to thoroughly saturate the costume and then let it drip dry. This fire-retardent agent is temporary and doesn't harm the fabric. Note: It must be removed after every laundering to be effective.

—Do not allow children to carry a pumpkin lighted by a candle or to set a candle-lighted pumpkin on the doorstep. If the children's costumes brush the pumpkin, a fire could easily start. Also, be careful with candles and candied pumpkin indoors near curtains or table decorations.

—Be sure children understand they must stay within the area open fire or flame.

I want to stress that a safety and general alertness attitude is important to keep your children's costumes short enough so that they won't trip on them; and light enough in color to make them clearly visible to motorists. Sometimes it is necessary to put reflective tape on the front and back of the costume for better visibility.

Mooseheart meeting topic

Fred Price, past state president of the Moose organization, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Women of the Moose Chapter 247, designated as Mooseheart Chapter Night.

He reviewed the activities at Mooseheart and spoke of the women who live there. In keeping with the meeting theme a "Christmas in October" march was held with each member contributing to a fund that will be used for the Mooseheart. A portable radio was donated to the home.

Mrs. Margaret Houseman, senior regent, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Vernie Von Nida was in charge of the evening program.

Two candidates for membership, Barbara Thomason and Thelma Stover, were accepted.

Prizes were announced for a "guess" tea that will be hosted by the Chapter from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday at the Moose Hall.

Mrs. Houseman announced Mrs. Georgina Tellor received the most tea and Mrs. Marion Lipcomb of the College of Regents serving as her caption guide.

Prizes for the evening were won by Madam Dorothy Coy, Edna Miller, Billi Bagi and Mary Driscoll.

After the meeting, refreshments were served to 37 members and Mrs. Von Nida and her committee members who decorated the tables in a Christmas motif.

Student on SIUE board

Donald L. Hastings Jr., of Edwardsville, a sophomore majoring in business administration at SIUE, was seated Thursday as an interim basis as a student member of the Board of Trustees.

Hastings was appointed by Chuck Mecum, president of the SIUE student body, and his appointment was approved by the Student Senate.

His appointment will serve until a referendum is completed regarding the method of selecting a student representative on the Board of Trustees.

A referendum will be held on the three possible methods for selecting the representative: selection by the Student Senate, appointment by the student body president with approval by the Student Senate, or election.

Balloting was completed on the SIUE campus last week, and voting later was conducted at the East St. Louis Community Center.

The student representative will have all the privileges of a trustee except the power to vote on issues before the board.

Some state memorials to close 2 days each week

Starting Nov. 1, 14 of the state's 15 state memorials will go to a five-day week.

Sole exception will be Lincoln's Tomb in Springfield, which will remain open seven days weekly.

Lincoln's New Salem, which is a state park and not a memorial, will also remain open seven days for visitors to tour the reconstructed town.

The rest of the state memorials, operated by the Illinois Department of Natural Resources, will close on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from Nov. 1 to April 1.

April, with the start of warm weather and more tourist activity, the memorials will again resume seven-day operation.

Ronald Johnson, head of the department's division of parks and recreation, said attendance at most of the memorials falls off drastically during the winter months, so some economy may be realized by closing the historic sites in midweek during the off-season.

No change will be made in personnel as a result of the new policy, Johnson said.

Lincoln's Home in Springfield, formerly a state park, will be turned over to the federal government and is a federal memorial, so it will not be affected by the new state program.

Thomas Rich new manager of phone company here

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has announced the appointment of Thomas Rich, St. Louis, as manager of the company's Granite City operation.

Rich replaces Dale Kaeshofer who has been transferred to Kirkwood, Mo., where he will serve as manager of business office operations.

A native of the south St. Louis area, Rich began his telephone company career in February 1969 as a telephone staff assistant in Manchester.

In August 1969, Rich joined the U. S. Army and spent two years serving in the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany.

In 1971, Rich returned to commercial staff assistant job. He performed duties in the area of telephone switchboard operations.

In the fall of 1972, Rich was promoted to manager of the St. Louis public office operation in March 1973.

In his present role, Rich plays on the Kutz Soccer Team and is an active member of the St. Louis Jaycees.

While serving as Granite City manager, Rich was involved in numerous community activities. A member of the Granite City Chamber of Commerce, Kaeshofer served on the board of directors and the city council liaison committee.

In August 1969, Rich joined the U. S. Army and spent two years serving in the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany.

In 1971, Rich returned to commercial staff assistant job. He performed duties in the Department of Conservation operates state parks, state memorials, conservation areas and access areas, as well as game refuges and reservoirs.

State parks will not be affected by the new policy, which will cover only the state memorials.

These include Bishop Hill, Bryant Cotton, Catholic Conf. Building, Douglas Tomb, Grant's Home, Jubilee College, Kaskaskia, Lincoln's Tomb, Metamora Court House, Mt. Pulaski Court House, Old Waukegan House, Galena, Pierre Menard House, Prairie Court House, Shawneetown and the Vandala State House.

List signers required in County Board races

Petitions of candidacy in the Feb. 12 primary election of County Board members must be filed with the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hots from Nov. 5 through Nov. 13 and must bear signatures in a number specified by the county clerk for each district, it was reported Monday.

In addition to the petitions of candidacy, all candidates for County Board nominations must file a statement of candidacy, a loyalty oath and an ethics form. The general election will be held April 2.

Miss Hots said the number of signers for Democrat candidates will be 10 per cent of the total vote, while for the 1st district, for Gov. Dan Walker and Lt. Gov. Niel F. Hartigan in the Nov. 5 election.

The number of required Republican candidates is based on 1/2 of 1 per cent of the vote received by U.S. Sen. Charles Percy in each district in the same election.

The required number of signatures for each County Board district, for Democrats and Republicans, is that order.

District 5, Democrats 10 and Republicans 11; District 6, 10 and 15; District 8, 10 and 16; District 10, 11 and 7; District 11, 12 and 10; District 12, 11 and 10; District 13, 9 and 7; District 15, 11 and 10.

The final filing date for the County Board primary on Nov. 13 will be Nov. 12, one day earlier from the statutory date of Nov. 12. Miss Hots said filing has been extended through Nov. 13 because the courthouse will be closed on Nov. 12 for the observance of Veterans Day.

Miss Hots said her office will use the same method as it has in the past to determine the order of names on the ballot when two or more candidates file for the same district in the same party on the first and last days of filing.

When two or more candidates file on the first day for the same County Board district and on the same party ticket, the positions on the ballot will be determined by drawing lots at 5 p.m. on Nov. 5, she said.

The positions on the ballot will be followed to determine the last place on the ballot when two or more candidates file for the same district on the same party ticket on Nov. 13.

Waterways surveillance increased

In a nationwide move to regulate development along inland waterways and coastal areas, the Army Corps of Engineers is increasing its efforts to eliminate unauthorized construction and other activities in these areas. The St. Louis District has been instructed to inventory the waterways and increase surveillance of their areas for work being done with permits, as well as challenge such work and possibly to refer infractions to the Justice Department for legal action.

Under Section 10 of the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1890, the Corps' permit program regulates not only the construction of pilings, docks and marinas, but also such operations as canals dredging, disposal of dredge material and the filling of wetlands, and transportation of dredge material to the ocean for dumping.

The permit program covers activities in waterways used for interstate commerce as well as tidal waters and the oceans. More than 10,000 permit actions were processed by the Corps last year.

Recent legislation and the emphasis on environmental protection have increased the Corps' role in the permit program. Revisions to regulatory operations were made earlier this year. These revisions are now being used as guidelines for use of navigable waters and wetlands.

Principal changes in the Corps' policies have come as a result of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 as well as the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, the Marine Management Act which all became law in 1972.

The St. Louis District's permit office issued 38 permits during fiscal year 1973 for construction and work. The District's area includes 300 miles on the Mississippi, 80 miles of the Missouri, 100 miles of the Illinois River and other tributary streams along these major basins.

The office reports a slight increase in permit activity this year.

The Corps is utilizing aerial photography and has notified its vessels and field survey teams

County upgraded for U. S. grants

Conrad Marvin Price announced this week that the Department of Commerce has designated Madison County as a Title I area under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965.

Title I areas are eligible for direct federal grants for up to 50 per cent of the cost of acquisition or development of land and improvements for public works, public service or development facility usage.

Similar grants may also be made for acquisition, construction or improvement of such facilities.

"This classification should open the way for improved economic conditions in Madison County," Price said.
